

GRANT PARK STADIUM

425 East 14th Street, Chicago

Soldier Field, as it is popularly known, was dedicated as a memorial to World War I soldiers and is an imposing architectural presence on Chicago's lakefront. Holabird & Roche won the design competition and provided a classical composition with twin Doric colonnades. It was planned to be adaptable for a variety of public gatherings, and when it opened in 1924, the field was among the largest stadiums in the world. It has been the home of the Chicago Bears since 1971.